

The Total Tickets platform uses e-tickets for events. They are commonly used now and are much easier to distribute than normal tickets.

Any customer that buys a ticket at an event will get an email with their ticket attached to it. They just need to go to that event with the ticket they got through email and they are good to go.

If you want to customise how these tickets look then go to the event menu and click on the customise link at the bottom of the event menu. This will take you to the customise event page.

In the customise event page. Click on the ticket design tab and you will see a page that allows you to edit all the colours of your ticket.
